What a Fellowship . . .

At Ridgecrest Conference Center

I'm writing this article while with the Singing Seniors at the Ridgecrest Conference Center near Asheville, NC. We're participating in the Sr. Adult Celebration week sponsored by Lifeway, as well as singing in a couple of the worship times. While today (Wednesday) is rather rainy and cold, the rest of our week has been beautiful, and the colors are so vibrant they pop!

Before arriving here at Ridgecrest on Tuesday night, our group sang at the Shannondale Retirement Center in Maryville, TN (near Knoxville). This is the same facility that our Chapel Choir sang at this past June. Just like the young people had, our Singing Seniors had a wonderful experience sharing at Shannondale! What gracious and hospitable folks they are.

It's good to get some distance from the everyday routine, to enjoy the relationships within our group, to meet new friends in Christ, and to experience our times of joint worship. My prayer is that God will refresh all of us in our spirits, and that His call on our lives will be re-energized. We'll be returning on Saturday early evening to Pensacola.

We Welcome These to the 2011 SURRENDER and CHAPEL BELLS . . .
